ACOUSTICS | YESECO

Yeseco Oy is a Finnish company specialising in ecological acoustic products. The natural materials we use in our products offer excellent acoustic properties as well as giving the products a timelessly beautiful surface pattern. Our products are visually impressive, and with their shapes, colours and picture printing they become an integral part of the interior décor.

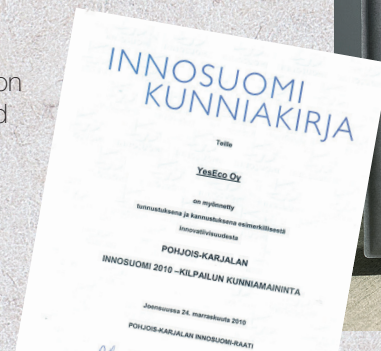

Our products are suitable for different rooms in the home, music rooms, work spaces, meeting rooms, corridors and public areas. They significantly improve comfort in the workplace and help support the company's visual image.

The acoustics of a room are one of its most important elements. Good acoustics are essential for a comfortable environment and improve its functionality. We help you find the right acoustic solutions professionally and in confidence, from design to finished product.

Our product won the Inno Finland award for innovation in 2010

Acoustic planning and the right acoustic product selection and placement improve the audibility of desired sounds and lessen the audibility of unwanted sounds. Our ecological interior design products are made from natural fibres, with a plastic fibre as a binding agent. The acoustic art panels can be finished in different colours or with a photograph applied to them. The products are supplied with fixing instructions.
